The Whole Town's Talking

MAYOR KEITH EVANS

Maybe there's hope for the country yet — judging from the way High school students turned out Saturday and worked all day long in the rain on Carmel's salvage drive.

MRS. CEDRIC BOWNTREE

If some of the grown-ups who have been lagging behind in Civilian Defense work would show the same spirit that the boys and girls did who helped with Carmel's salvage drive, the country would have practically nothing to worry about.

Over a Carload of Old Paper Collected

Over 20 tons of paper — more than a train carload — were collected in Carmel's Civilian Defense salvage drive Saturday.

It was successful, thanks to the high school boys of the Junior Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee who worked all day through the rain, to the Girl Scouts who have continued to tie and stack papers all week, to Civilian Defense volunteer workers, and Alan Campbell, energetic salvage drive chairman, and to those who donated trucks, Plaza Fuel, M. J. Murphy, Hugh Comstock, Carmel Garbage Company, Del Monte Properties Company, Bill Booker and the City of Carmel. A mobile loud speaker system announcing the trucks' approach was contributed by Severns.

The paper was shipped off to government defense industries today.

Civilian Defense headquarters ask that citizens continue to save their old newspapers, magazines and cartons. They will be collected and taken to the Plaza Fuel storehouse every two weeks.

Housewives are urged to tie their papers together themselves. Failure of many to do so last Saturday greatly slowed up the collection.

March 5 Last Day to Register for April Election

If you want to have a voice in choosing your new councilmen, you better check on your voter's registration.

March 5 is the last day to register for the April 14 election. Three new councilmen will be chosen.

Stanford's Drug Store is the place to register.

If you are not sure your registration is up to date, check with County Clerk C. F. Joy ni Salinas.

CARMEL'S SWALLOWS ARE BACK.

Here It Is Again: the Firemen's Wild and Woozy Variety Show on Tonight

Those who have never had the experience of hearing and seeing Dick Boone, Susie Duvall at the piano, Katie Vosburg surrounded by an accordion, the Mexican Hat Dance as interpreted by Carolita — well, they'd better take a hint and be on hand when the curtain rises tonight on the Fireman's Annual "Variety Show".

NAVY RECRUITING
OFFICER HERE
EVERY MONDAY

The Navy Recruiting Officer for Carmel, Albert Farn, will be at the Post Office every Monday from 12 until 4 p. m.

Those who have seen the above-mentioned talent, plus a lot of other stars, will come anyway. You can't keep 'em away. The full program itself, a knockout if we ever saw one, is printed on pages six and seven of this issue. Take a look at the arrayed laughter which awaits. (If the program is a bit surrounded by advertising, remember that when your glance strays from the galaxy of names and numbers, the advertisers deserve a break, too!)

Only thing that may spoil the show is the intermission, which somehow seems unnecessary. Probably it's a safety precaution. (Continued on page 12)

Tourists Return Minus Wheels, Peace Reigns

A near miracle occurred in Carmel this week.

A part of Carmel is cheering today and another part is sulking in its tent with a resigned, "Oh well, nothing good ever lasts." Part of Carmel thought tourists had left us for keeps. Tourists returned, however, in large numbers last week-end, and the other side cheered.

The funny part of it is that these two vocally dynamic Carmel groups, the Pro and Anti-Tourists, were both practically reconciled with the existing state of affairs, something that hasn't happened since the board walks on Ocean avenue were out.

Pop Concert Here, First of Its Kind

The Carmel Music Society will inaugurate something entirely new on March 14 in its series of concerts.

This is the presentation of a young American artist in a concert at popular prices.

Ross Worsley, Los Angeles baritone, has been selected to initiate the new feature designed to develop promising young artists. Mr. Worsley will be remembered in Carmel for his solo work in last year's Bach Festival. On Saturday evening, March 14, he will be heard in Sunset auditorium.

Our Own--First Real Symphony to Play Here

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will make its bow to Carmel on Thursday evening, March 19, at Sunset School auditorium.

This will be the first time an orchestra of anything approaching regular symphonic proportions will have appeared in this locality, and an interesting evening of symphonic music may be expected. There will be 50 players, and all the instruments of the orchestra are represented.

This orchestra consists of players from all over Monterey county, some of whom have traveled 60 miles round-trip to attend rehearsals each week. Thanks to the co-operation of county high schools and their musical instructors, rehearsal space and the use of music.

Corum Jackson and the hotel owners were gleeful. Hotels and lodges were crowded to overflowing. Gift and dress shops did a rushing business. Scores of vacationers came down from San Francisco and the valley to open their summer homes here for the week-end or for the week.

In January, when the tourist situation vanished completely from sight and so formed the Tourist Problem, a certain part of the town was quietly but definitely gleeful. People who have lived in Carmel for 20 years were saying it was like the old, unspoiled days. They did not gloat but they didn't hide their satisfaction either that Carmel was quiet again and that there were parking places on Carmel streets.

Well, these people are still mildly happy today in spite of the tourists' return. They rejoiced over two things: that there were not quite so many tourists last week-end as over Washington's Birthday a year ago and especially that more people came to Carmel by train, leaving their cars at home. Carmel, as several Carmelites are pointing out, can gracefully absorb a lot more tourists without automobiles than they can with them.

THE DOGS DO BARK

Mr. Setter goes Carmel, with a vengeance!

Several months ago a dignified, quiet-mannered gentleman by the name of Mr. LEWELLYN Setter, arrived in Carmel. He was polite, impersonal and reserved as he trotted quietly around the Village attending to his own business, a model of decorum. Then quite suddenly Mr. Setter "went Carmel" as the native Villagers say, LOU, as he became known to all the dogs-about-town, threw off his dignified air and quiet manner for a new personality full of gay camaraderie and puckish charm.

He established his headquarters outside the Snack, from there he would follow home, in typical Carmel dog-about-town style, any one who appealed to him. Then he fell madly in love with village Glamour Girl No. 1, SPATTS Ogden, and when the little lady completely ignored him, LOU followed her master, Terry Ogden, wherever he went, pressing his suit for SPATTS' hand at the top of his lungs. Then LOU discovered the Peeps and his joy was so great that it overshadowed even his love for SPATTS. So now this once quiet and dignified gentleman can be seen and heard tearing up Ocean avenue, racing a peep up the hill, barking wildly, his tail streaming behind him—enjoying himself completely.

Something new has been added to the Brennan family, in fact five somethings, for GABBY Brennan is blissfully happy over the recent arrival of five wee Bundles from Heaven. This is GABBY'S first family, and she says that they are absolutely the most beautiful babies she has ever seen. Although the little ones look like little fat, round balls of fur with button noses and tightly shut eyes, GABBY, who is a very lovely Australian shepherd belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Marcy Brennan, is quite certain that they will grow up to look exactly like their father, handsome TEACHER Collins of Pebble Beach—that is, four of them will, the fifth shows definite signs of being a platinum blonde. And of course, they will all have beautiful blue eyes like their mother, she hopes, when they finally get around to opening them.

One of the most attractive holiday visitors in the Village was

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Student government finally got under way at High School last week.

Wednesday, the new constitution was ratified by a vote of 191 to 12.

This was followed by a legislative meeting, Thursday, at 3:30. Two important issues were discussed at this meeting. The first was the possible sponsorship of the production, "Marco Polo", to be given Friday, March 20, in the Sunset auditorium. The students felt this was an opportunity not to be overlooked, so the Carmel High School is now a sponsor of this fine group.

Secondly, the judge of the newly-created Student Court was elected. After much discussion, Don Tocher, a senior, who has quite lately come from Berkeley, was elected. Thus the business was completed and the meeting was adjourned.

Friday, the Carmel High School Students had a Student Body meeting to celebrate the coming vacation. The beginning of the meeting resembled a quiz program with the students asking questions about school activities. Then Mrs. Elmarie Dyke of Pacific Grove, who had brought to the attention of the school the coming production, "Marco Polo", told of the fine organization that presents it and other productions. After this, four commissioners, Nancy Covert, Pat Tarrant, Rosemary Powell and Arnold Pilling spoke of their respective activities, social, financial, Red Cross, and publicity.

Finally Mr. Bardarson told of the coming vacation. He said that the week of Feb. 28 was set aside for "Cutting." The school has lost many students lately and gained few, they can not afford to have students cut.

JR. RED CROSS BOOMING

Last week was a busy and profitable one for the Carmel High School Junior Red Cross. Every day the Junior Red Cross presented some activity at noon which the students could attend for a small fee, a dime, a nickel or a book.

Monday the students could go to the "Book Dance" with the entrance fee of a book for the boys in the camps. Tuesday, a movie was given in the Science Room. Wednesday the Junior Red Cross invited the students to a combination boxing, wrestling and tumbling exhibition. Thursday, Howie Levinson and Mr. Bardarson auctioned off lunches that the high school girls had prepared, with each lunch went the privilege of eating with the girl who had made it. Friday, the senior girls played basketball with the varsity boys. The boys played with only one hand.

BUFFINS Mayer, who was down for the week-end with her mistress, Miss Ruth Mayor of Palo Alto.

The pretty little Titian-haired Cocker hadn't been to Carmel for some time so she was completely intrigued by the presence of the Army in the Village. She got quite a thrill out of seeing groups of handsome young soldiers in uniform strolling about, and she was fascinated by the dashing "M. Ps" in their tin hats. And when a Peep appeared bouncing up Ocean Avenue, her great, big brown eyes grew even bigger. BUFFINS took it all in with a great deal of interest and rushed home to tell the girls in Palo Alto all about the excitement and color that the Army has brought to Carmel.

As Rosemary Powell, commissioner of Red Cross, reported at the assembly Friday, "Our Junior Red Cross has raised some $25 and 200 books this past week."

SCIENCE AT HIGH SCHOOL

By Barbara Josselyn

"Miss Sener had promised to take me on a field trip, so after many delays we got started with old shoes, buckets (mine leaked), and mother's favorite trowel.

"When we got to Carmel beach to see what we could find, we found to our disgust and disappointment that the tide seemed to be coming in.

"We decided not to be cheated out of our afternoon of fun and excitement so went over to the Pacific Grove beach, which has tides that are much more kind in keeping on the schedule, or so it seemed to me.

"Although the tides were coming in here also, there was still plenty to see. We found a star fish and would have found more, but every time you turn around, the ocean has a bad habit of sneaking up on you. All of the rocks were covered with sea anemones.

"We couldn't walk without stepping on them. I was very anxious to bring home specimens, but after many trials with spade and hoe, we decided that it was not worth trying to get sea anemones off the rocks. However, we did get some mussels and limpets.

"We had a good time, in spite of wet feet, and came home with our pails filled with extra-smelly specimens to add to our collections of lizards, black widows and baby rats who inhabit the science room and are often found in unexpected places. From the comments of those who inspected my bucket of specimens, I am sure many people started studying sea life."

Current expenditures of the Carmel Unified elementary school district averaged $96.56 per pupil in average daily attendance in 1940-41, compared with $119.87 the year before, a study of costs of 209 larger elementary school districts in California, just completed by California Taxpayers' Association, shows.

Charlie Sayers Woodcarving Book Reviewed

By MARION HOWES
THE BOOK OF WOODCARVING
—Charles Marshall Sayers, The
Caxton Printers, Ltd. $5.00.

Although labelled a "text", Charles Marshall Sayers' book on woodcarving has several merits that raise it above the rather depressing class suggested by the term. Chief among these to Carmel readers will be the fact that it is permeated with the personality of a friend and fellow townsman who has become one of Carmel's traditions. Also it is nicely printed and gotten up and the full page photographs for which credit is given to Francis Whitaker and Horace Lyons give it an artistic value in themselves.

But our personal interest in the book should not obscure appreciation of its merit as a text. It has the authority not only of Mr. Sayers' personal expertise but of his traditions of craftsmanship inherited from a long line of Scotch cabinet-makers and woodcarvers and his many years of successful teaching. He gives the student the solid ground he must build on, without confusing him with needless technicalities.

Anyone who has watched "Charlie" Sayers at work on a bit of wood will recognize in the written lessons the same direct hewing to the line and lack of pedantic detail. He has included an introduction containing his beliefs in sound craftsmanship based on tradition, good taste and good sense and leavened it with a human approach and a dash of dry Scot's humor. There is in the book—as in Mr. Sayers—no attempt at artistic ego-airing. Those who are truly possessors of a strong personality need never worry about expressing it and Charlie Sayers is in this book as he is in his woodcarving and sturdy furniture.

HELEN JEPSON
Will Sing March 4

Helen Jepson, soprano star of opera, will sing in concert Wednesday evening, March 4, at 8 o'clock in the Salinas High School auditorium.

She is being presented by the Salinas Concert Association with members of the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association entitled to attend, and there are still memberships available in the latter organization.

Civilian Defense, Red Cross Activities Are Extended to Big Sur

A meeting was held at the Peiffer School, Big Sur, on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 12, at which speakers for Civilian Defense and the American Red Cross outlined the plans and functions of these two organizations.

Mrs. Cedric Rowntree presented a picture of the entire set-up of Civilian Defense, and the way in which every household could co-operate, even in remote districts. In the absence of Mrs. Sidney A. Trevett, Mrs. John W. Dickinson spoke on the Red Cross, its ideals, aims and objects, special mention being made of the War Production unit under the chairmanship of Miss Jane C. Burritt. Mrs. Dickinson also stressed the great need for all women to have a complete knowledge of Home Nursing, in view of the fact that both doctors and nurses will become more scarce in the future, due to war conditions. Before the meeting was over, 13 persons had registered for the Home Nursing course.

It has now become possible for the Carmel Chapter to furnish a nurse for the nursing course, and today the first class will meet at the home of Mrs. William Kenyon. Instructor of the course is Mrs. K. R. Cross, R. N.

The following have enrolled in the class: Mrs. Allan McQueen, Mrs. C. H. Snyder, Lynda Sar-

Outstanding Modern Historian to Give Analysis of American Position for Carmel Forum on March 3

The Carmel Forum will present one of California's most noted speakers at Sunset Auditorium on the evening of Tuesday, March 3, at 8 o'clock: Dr. Robert J. Kerner, professor of history at the University of California.

He has long been an outstanding authority on the modern history of Central Europe and Eastern Europe and its interrelationship with Asia. Recently he has been much quoted in the newspapers, first for his statement that the "cocktail age is gone forever", and more recently for a dynamic lecture before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco in which he declared that events of the year 1942 may determine the course of history for centuries to come.

The task of the United States is "to produce in 1942—it will be too late in 1943", he said. "We must produce and deliver to our allied armies and fleets what it will take to change this year from an initial Axis triumph to a final Axis catastrophe." The United States must be ready for a body blow at Japan in case Japan at a vital moment overreaches and leaves herself open to sudden disaster.

"She has done this in the past and may do it again," Dr. Kerner said.

Professor Kerner received his Ph. D. from Harvard, has studied at the Universities of Berlin, Vienna, Moscow and Paris. He has lectured at many of the principal universities of the world, and was a member of the faculty of the University of Missouri before coming to the University of California in 1928. In 1917-18 he was a member of the Colonel House inquiry into the terms of the peace, and in 1918-19 he was on the staff of the American Peace Committee in Paris.

European learned societies have elected him to membership and foreign governments have honored and decorated him. He is the author of six volumes and over 70 articles on the history and international relationships of Central Europe. He was one of the founders of the Journal of Modern European History and for over 14 years has been one of the American editors of the Slavonic and Learned Societies.

Admission is free to Dr. Kerner's lecture, as one of the services of the Carmel Forum.

ENLIGHTENED SELF-INTEREST

By ELIZABETH PAINE

"Maybe there's hope for the country yet," said Mayor Keith Evans yesterday. He was speaking of the way high school students worked all day Saturday—in spite of the rain—collecting paper for Carmel's salvage drive. Because many grown-ups "did not have time" to tie up their papers, the boys and girls worked far into Saturday evening.

"If some of the grown-ups who have been lagging behind would show the spirit these boys and girls have, this country would have practically nothing to worry about." This is what Mrs. Cedric Rowntree had to say. She is head of the Women's Auxiliary of Civilian Defense, which is conducting the salvage campaign.

Now there is a war job for grown-ups to do in Carmel. Civilian Defense is in serious need of block wardens and auxiliary firemen. Civilian Defense is another term for you and me. When Civilian Defense says it does not have enough able-bodied men to fight fire in emergency and does not have enough men to take charge as block wardens in case of air raid, it means that you and I and our children and our parents are not so well protected as we have it in our power to be.

It is to be hoped that this apparent indifference on the part of grown-ups who might volunteer is due to ignorance of the need.

This would be a sad day indeed if we had to admit that high school students had to teach the grown-ups patriotism, especially when that term includes plain, ordinary common sense.

ON THE HOME FRONT

(Republished from Victory, weekly publication of the agencies in the Office of Emergency Management).

And now we're rationing the retreads. Now great presses grind out ration books for sugar. Now we're saving tin and this, like all the other measures toward Victory, measures present and to come, will change our habits and our lives.

The Pioneer Spirit—

Emergencies stimulate ingenuity. That's why our pioneers, who lived in a continuing crisis, accomplished so much. The War Production Board's recent announcement that two important jobs have been found for our empty tin cans affords fresh proof of this fact. Fresh proof, too, of our grave need for all kinds of metal.

The tin can's second assignment, however, is quite another thing. The tin can is going to work in the copper mining industry. Cans cleaned and shredded at Kansas City, Dallas, and Houston will be shipped off to the mines. There water carrying copper sulphate flows over the shredded cans, precipitating copper. Expected output: 2000 tons a month.

Housewives living in these detinning and shredding areas are asked to save their tin cans; eventually most of us may be doing this.

More Savings on Tin—

At the same time WPB attacked the problem of tin scarcity from the other end of the line, abolishing for the duration, certain uses of tin cans, restricting use of cans for a number of other purposes, establishing specifications calling for thinner coatings of tin on all cans except those which must be resistant to acid. This will save about 40 per cent of the tin used last year without affecting the consumer in any really vital way. Dog food won't be canned, or beer, but there'll be tin for vegetables and fruit and the more important meat products.

People who hope to make a speculative profit out of the war's impact on their fellow Americans are apt to find it tough sledding. Here are some of the recent steps taken by WPB and OPA to guard you against unfairly high prices and the Nation against inflation:

The medicine chest—OPA put a ceiling over citric acid, used for flavoring food and beverages and in drug preparations, to halt speculative advances which brought resales at prices three times higher than those of producers . . . OPA took similar action on the raw material for aspirin and other remedies, and for the same reason . . . WPB issued an order designed to save the supply of highly concentrated Vitamin A for human consumption—some of it has been going into feeds.

Fair Distribution of Clothing—

In the clothing field, WPB warned that wholesalers and retailers who acquire abnormally large stocks merely increase likelihood that WPB will take over distribution of supplies among all jobbers, wholesalers, retailers . . . And OPA established a permanent maximum "dollars per dozen" price for manufacturers of Nylon hosiery, fixed

THE WINE OF UNDERSTANDING

Today the sky lays folds of indigo
Upon the golden salver of the hill
That burns with sunlight where the grapes distil
Small liquid rubies in a luscious flow.
The winds have drunk the nectar and they blow
A honeyed breath through sycamores that thrill
With humming birds and bees, beside a rill,
Then onward to the valley far below.
And like the inundation of the wine
Upon the earth of autumn, is the tide
Of understanding surging in your eyes
That flame like holy fires, and in your shrine
I kneel and worship, ever to abide
Upon the hills where love's rich vintage lies.

—MONICA TYLER BROWN.

WHO OWNS A HILL

He owns the world, who owns a hill where shadows lean through solitude to blot the twig-entangled loam, the trillium's habitude.

Let frost explore the farthest home of hiding root or paw or wing
the brief occasion of each spring reveals to him who owns a hill what answer waits beyond all death—what life endures there still.

He learns from land and counts his breath

perceiving more than season's-worth

I HAVE DRAWN PICTURES IN THE SKY

I have been vagrant with the winds of space;
Abroad upon the night roads of the sky,
I have gone knocking at the backyard gateways
Of the universe, begging my way, taking a census
Of fires in the dark. I have gone singing
A list of wild imaginings at lighted doorways
Down the roads to morning, talking to myself.

I have devised my own new constellations;
I have drawn bright private diagrams across the dark,
Tracing elastic lightnings, shaping electric contours
For all my brothers' eyes to sleep against.
I have scribbled with the chalk of cosmic fancy
On the slate of half my lifetime.

The stars are mine.

—CARL JOHN BOSTELMANN.

This editorial in The California Republican sounds to us like a cheering report from the Front of Political Bicker.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

In answer to the question, "What can I do to serve my country and help win the war, McIntyre Faries, immediate past vice-president of the Republican State Central Committee, offers a suggestion.

The suggestion was prompted by the fact that a recent unofficial survey indicated that less than 15 per cent of the Republicans who took some active part in the Wilkie campaign in California were engaged in some form or type of defense service.

If this is true the reasons why are not altogether clear. But most certainly it is not because they are unwilling to serve.

Unquestionably there is a great reservoir of Republican man power and brains that can immediately be thrown into this war effort. It is largely a matter of finding out who is available, and what everyone is best fitted to do and where they can best fit in the war picture.

If some organized plan to bring this about were put in effect, either Mr. Faries' plan or some similar idea, it is certain to produce some constructive results. Here is what Mr. Faries suggests:

What is wrong with this program?

(1) Take out the list of persons, ostensibly Republicans, those who worked in the last campaign and who were affiliated with the Assembly, the county central committee, the Council of Republican Women, Pro-America, Wilkie Volunteers or any other Republican organization.

(2) Call together a group of these workers in each district and give them the lists of names of these workers for their precincts with the understanding that they will:

(a) Contact each of the persons who worked in the last campaign and inquire;

What that person is doing for National Defense and what the members of his family are doing.

What he or she and the members of the family will volunteer to do, or are fitted to do.

Whether or not the head of the family or any of its members are fitted for a pay job in defense work that should be obtainable.

(b) Compile the information obtained.

(c) Contact the air wardens, Red Cross and other organizations as to the availability of the worker with the purpose in mind of finding out where he can best serve in the capacity for which he is best fitted.

(d) Report back to your district leader as to the result of your efforts.

(3) When this is completed, start over on a new list or block plan. Obtain this information.

(B) What is wrong with our war effort? Is it going too slowly?

Is the effort sufficiently using our manpower and brains?

(C) Will this help win the war?

Yes.

(D) Is it a legitimate program?

Yes, if done patriotically without criticism or publicity.

(E) Why not try it?

(Signed)

McIntyre Faries.

First Ladies for Woman's Club—

Martha Washington, Dolly Madison, Sarah Childress Polk, Mary Todd Lincoln, Edith Bolling Wilson and Eleanor Roosevelt, in the person of Mary Waterstreet will entertain the members and guests of the Carmel Woman's Club at Hotel La Ribera on Monday afternoon, March 2, at 2:30 o'clock. The noted solo actress reports interesting episode in the life of the executive mansion in her, "First Ladies of the Land Live Again."

Using costumes that are replicas of those in the Smithsonian Institution, utilizing humor, intense drama, music and picturesque costuming, Miss Waterstreet entertains, but at the same time informs, as she imitates Dolly Madison discovering ice cream or Mrs. Polk presiding at a state dinner. She goes to the depths of her characters, and understands them so well that they fairly do live again.

When she aspired to monologue, Mary Waterstreet chose the most difficult of all phases of drama, according to one critic. That she progressed swiftly after graduating from the School of Speech of Northwestern University points to an endowment of genius, for her material is her own, gleaned from personal observation and set down in her own hand.

How keenly she has surveyed life, and how graphically she has depicted characters, plucked from the experiences of an average individual, Mary Waterstreet's audiences can testify.

Ewigs Entertain—

The Ed Ewigs were hosts over the week-end to Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Wing of Sacramento.

This week-end they expect their son, Gordno, down from Stanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferrante entertained Mrs. Ferrante's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Thomas of Palo Alto during the week-end.

He was, however, able to attend other parties given for him earlier by the E. C. Poklens, the Peter Ferrantes and the Raymond Smiths. And the Clarks managed to squeeze in two cocktail parties of their own.

LISTEN, FOLKS—TREAT ME WELL

I'm getting fewer and fewer because I am made of needed metals that have marched off to help win this war. Steel, copper, zinc, brass and nickel are precious metals today. If I serve you now treat me well so I can serve you well. You see I am in the Health Corps. I wash clothes, scald dishes and do general clean-up duty about the house.

If you are needing an AUTOMATIC GAS
WATER HEATER
...Better Not Wait!

There is, of course, no need to buy a water heater if you do not need one. That's foolish buying. If, however, your present water heater shows signs that it cannot stand up in duty on the home front for the duration, then you had better get one that will.

The efficient service of an Automatic Gas Water Heater will be a big help to you. A plentiful supply of hot water is a step in economy, because it cleans clothes, dishes, floors and walls speedier and with less soap.

Check over your present water heater. If you NEED a new one, it would be wise to act soon.

Adult School Will Give War Training

In keeping with the policies of adult schools all over the state the Carmel Adult School announces many changes designed to meet the needs of adults for special information and training in time of war.

A new bulletin listing the classes offered beginning on March 2 will be mailed on request, or may be had by calling at either of the Carmel school offices.

Kitchen gardening is replacing home gardening in the offerings. The new class will have six meetings on Tuesday and Thursday ADD NIDDLES ½ ffoH- ½ ½ followed by two field meetings, and after that by growing gardens, some on the land of those who take the course, some on a plot secured by Mrs. E. H. Brattin who will instruct the course, which is in cooperation with the women's section of Civilian Defense. Alex Eddie will teach courses in Monterey, and will not continue his class in Carmel for the present.

The Bach chorus has already started its work for the coming Bach Festival of 1942. Miss Dene Denny is taking personal charge of the preparatory class this year, in the shop at Sunset. Ernest Calley has outlined six lessons in electrical, mechanical, plumbing and home maintenance jobs which some women may have to do while their men are away. The objective will be to learn to do by doing with the simplest home tools.

First Aid will include two courses. Everett Parrish will continue with an advanced course on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings for those who have been taking the standard course from him, or others who have had the standard course. On Monday, March 2, and Tuesday, March 3, applicants for the standard or beginning course will be registered. It is expected that this class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Mrs. Sylvia M. Jordan will return to the class in "Our Mexican Neighbors", which she originated last fall.

The adult school also offers typing, shorthand, orchestra, men's chorus, drama, dramatics workshop, photography, physical education for women, music appreciation, handicrafts, woodwork, pottery, bookbinding, life drawing, citizenship for aliens, creative writing, and conversational Spanish. All classes are free of charge.

Chess Club Meets Thursday

The Carmel Chess Club holds open meetings each Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. at Steve Patterson's Chop House.

has been made available to the orchestra as a community cultural endeavor. A concert will also be given in Salinas, but the one in Carmel will be the only one in this locality at this time.

The director will be Jaffrey Harris, who has had considerable operatic and symphony orchestra experience as a conductor, and is known locally as the director of the Peninsula Male Chorus. The orchestra committee is composed of Franklin Young, in charge of music at the Monterey High School, Harold Bartlett of the Carmel schools, Robert Negler of the Pacific Grove schools, Keith McKillop of the Salinas High School, A. McCann of the Salinas Junior College, and Miss E. Weigell of the Gonzales schools. Tickets will be available at popular prices, with reduced rates for students for this concert.

Bill Bassett Back With His Baby

W. K. Bassett's Cymbal has again come to life! For the fourth time in 16 years Bill has revived the weekly which he has fondly referred to as "a glorified newspaper."

Hildreth Hare, growing weary of the struggle, finally relinquished The Cymbal to Bill last week. Details of their deal have not been disclosed.

Bill first started The Cymbal in 1926 and continued it until 1928. He then left the peninsula and returned in 1934 to edit "Controversy", a weekly controlled by Colonel Harold L. Mack. His next venture was editing "Pacific Weekly" with Ella Winter and Lincoln Steffens, following which he revived The Cymbal again for about six months. In 1936 Bill brought The Cymbal to life for the third time, continuing to edit it until bought out in April, 1941, by Hildreth and her late husband, Richard L. Masten, who merged it with the free distribution paper, Masten's Gazette.

Bill's friends are glad to see him back with his "baby" in his old stamping ground. They recall what he wrote in The Pine Cone at the time of his selling out to the Mastens:

"I have been proud of The Cymbal; I have been particularly proud of those who stood with me in creating something principally for our own amazement. We have honestly felt through these years that if The Cymbal pleased us, the hell with the outside reaction."

The Heaving Line

By THE OLD SALT

Impressions—The new sailor, be he on a battleship, cruiser, destroyer or auxiliary craft of the Navy, impresses me quite a lot. These youngsters in their new environment seem eager to get at the job and sew it up as soon as possible. They are efficient, clean-cut, and certainly reflect credit on the youth of this nation of ours.

Essentially the United States is not a maritime nation such as Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries, and one would not expect to see so many young men turning towards the Navy. Since Pearl Harbor the Navy recruiting stations have been swamped with enlistments and most applicants are from inland towns. Shades of Paul Jones, who I'll bet, never dreamed that a sailor could be made of any one not from the sea coast towns.

Sports—In World War I sports played a very important part in the training of the Navy and under the leadership of those who are up in sports, the United States Navy put into the field some fine basketball and football teams. It seems also that in war time the Navy also produces some fine boxers. Under the leadership of Lieut. Commander Gene Tunney, ex-heavyweight boxing champion of the world, big things in boxing are anticipated in the service. Look out this fall, you college football teams, because the Navy will probably put teams of championship caliber in the field, as they did in 1917-18 with the wonderful team from the Great Lakes Training Station at Chicago.

I Heard This One—First hand from a sailor who had served many years on the Asiatic station. A sailor placing a wreath on the grave of a departed shipmate in a Chinese cemetery, observes an ancient Chinaman placing a bowl of rice on a nearby grave and asks, "What time do you expect your friend to come up and eat the rice?" The ancient one smiled and answered, "Same time your friend come up and smell flowers."

Every now and then I overhaul some young men from the Monterey peninsula who are now in the Navy. They all look fine and

SUNSET CAFETERIA MENU

March 2-8, 1942

MONDAY — Cream of mushroom soup, spinach, rice pudding, buttered carrot salad, ice cream.

TUESDAY — Cocoa, stewed tomatoes and celery, hamburgers, fruit salad, jello.

WEDNESDAY — Beef broth with noodles, carrots, baked beans, Carolina salad, cup cakes.

THURSDAY — Vegetable soup, artichokes, mashed potatoes and gravy, pear and cottage cheese salad, ice cream.

FRIDAY — Cream of spinach soup, beets, spaghetti with tomato and cheese, artichoke salad, pineapple-tapioca pudding.

are doing their best to make good in their new work. Seems strange that just a few short months ago these same boys were occupied in their civilian pursuits—fishermen, clerks, etc., and now in the uniform of the U. S. Navy and, by golly, quite salty, using such terms as starboard, port and avast, and giving the impression that they had cut their eye teeth on a royal yard.

Abalone League—The flag-raising ceremonies marking the opening of the Abalone League softball games for this year were conducted by a unit from the nautical guard, Lieut. Allen Knight's command. No regular Navy unit could have done better, and their showing reflects the efficiency of the training that Lieut. Knight has given these boys. This is our own peninsula Navy and they are certainly doing their share of work and duty on the peninsula.

It is time to haul taut and belay. Will yarn with you next week. In the meantime, remember Pearl Harbor and buy bonds for victory.

Churches . . .

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, March 1, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text will be: "God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus," (Phil. 4: 19).

Other Bible citations will include: "And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch. Then came the Jews around about him, and said unto him, How dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me," (John 10: 23-25).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christ was the Spirit which Jesus implied in his own statements: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life.' 'I and my Father are one.' This Christ, or divinity of the man Jesus, was his divine nature, the godliness which animated him," (p. 26).

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

At the Church of the Wayfarer next Sunday morning, Dr. James E. Crowther, the pastor, will preach on the theme, "Anchors for Stormy Days," a consideration of some of the basic certainties that will hold us steady in the days of stress that lie ahead. The service is at 11 o'clock; visitors are cordially invited.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Carmel Theater Will Show Film of Foreign Correspondence

Carmel Theater has a first-class week-end offering in "Confirm or Deny", opening tonight and starring Don Ameche and Joan Bennett. It is one of the best of the "foreign correspondent" films and has a record of successful runs. On the same bill will be a light-hearted farce-comedy, "All-American Co-ed", with Frances Langford, Johnny Downs and Marjorie Woodworth. Matinee at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

"How Green Was My Valley," a topnotch picture directed by John Ford of "The Informer" fame, starring Walter Pidgeon and Maureen O'Hara, will open Sunday's continuous program starting at 2 o'clock. The film will continue Monday and Tuesday. It is a free adaptation of Richard Llewellyn's famous best-seller, the stars being supported by a notable cast, including John Loder, Anna Lee, Sara Allgood, Barry Fitzgerald, Roddy McDowall and Donald Crisp.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, March 4 and 5, Fredric March and Martha Scott will co-star in the unusual "One Foot in Heaven", an absorbing saga of small town life in the early 1900's, March, ably assisted by Martha Scott, star of "Our Town", has the role of a "practical" parson who with "one foot in heaven" yet managed to keep the other one on solid ground, going about the difficult business of serving both God and man without losing his balance. The story is told with humor and warmth. Also on the bill is the light and gay "Right to the Heart", featuring Brenda Joyce and Joe Allen, Jr.

The Whole Town's Talking—

MRS. J. E. NICHOLS
Will Carmel be bombed? Good heaven, no!

"POP" SMITH

Carmel might be bombed by fleeing enemy planes, but certainly not on purpose.

PAUL CLEMMENSEN

If I said yes, I would be called an alarmist; if I said no, people would say I was asleep, so I'll say, maybe.

ELIZABETH NILES

Chief Librarian, Carmel Library
I wish Carmel people would strike a rational medium between panic and indifference to war conditions.

To panic is not only to be useless but is harmful to others, and to be indifferent is to be disloyal.

FRED WALLACE THURSTON

Progress is a spiritual law — Carmel comes under that law of progress and no one can stop its action, but we can all enjoy the growth of Carmel and the development of its natural beauties of environment, if we guard against "Coney Island" effects. And just what good has the liquor element brought to Carmel, and to our young people, and those unaware of its subtle dangers?

MARY HELEN ALEXANDER

Circulation Manager of the Cymbal until this week
It was fun while it lasted, but who is Santa Claus?

JAMES A. VINCENT

I think that it would be pleasanter for us and for our visitors to have the downtown garbage collected before business hours instead of during the middle of the day.

NOEL SULLIVAN IN N. Y.—

HARVEY GARDNER WINS SKI AWARDS

When Harvey Gardner went to Yosemite to participate in winter sports, he had hopes of returning to Carmel with his silver skis. But when he arrived home he surprised his parents and friends by having not only the silver skis, but the gold ones as well.

These small, but valuable tokens of achievement are given only to those persons who are able to make a certain run in a limited time; three minutes for the silver, two for the gold. Harvey now possesses both, due to his efforts during his last skiing trip, taken with several students of Salinas Junior college.

Need Volunteer Wardens-Firemen

Able-bodied men are needed for block wardens and for emergency firemen.

Civilian Defense forces are understaffed. Headquarters pleads for volunteers who will assist in the efficient functioning of the community by making everyone, including themselves, safer.

All who are willing to do block warden work, that is, supervise their block during alerts, should notify Malcolm Tarpey, acting head of Civilian Defense.

Men ready to volunteer as firemen should see Fire Chief Vincent Torres.

Those attending are invited to bring their own cards and score sheets. If they have tables, it would be appreciated if they would also bring these.

Promotion Overtakes Mobile Gen. Stilwell

Brigadier General Joseph W. Stilwell, who is now on a special mission to China but whose home is Carmel as much as any place, has been recommended by President Roosevelt for promotion to the rank of lieutenant general.

Until recently General Stilwell was commander of the Third Army at the Presidio of Monterey.

Mrs. Stilwell and their daughters, Winifred and Alison, continue to live in Carmel.

Marines Want Pick of Patriots

The United States Marine Corps is still definitely open for IMMEDIATE voluntary enlistments for men between the ages of 17 and 30 years of age, either for the duration of the war or in the regular Marine Corps for a four-year enlistment.

Under all but unusual circumstances a man may be interviewed and examined on one day and be on his way to the training center the following day. There is no delay in enlistment. The Marines want every available man who sincerely feels that the United States is a country worth fighting to preserve, to VOLUNTEER NOW! If you are registered for Selective Service you are still eligible for enlistment in the Marines, if you have not been ordered for induction. Enlist now and receive the expert all-round training for which the Marines have been famous!

Ex-marines who have had rifle coaching experience may be enlisted at their highest former enlisted rank and in no case lower than Platoon Sergeant. Inquire at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Room 228, Post Office, San Jose, for further information. ACT NOW! Tomorrow may be too late!

Firemen's Wild and Woozy Show Tonight

—to let you catch your breath and calm the heaving ribs. That "Udder Nonsense" dance team featuring Louise Welty and young McMenamin is guaranteed to get definite results. And that famous "Out of the South", Margaret Mather Group is, really, something.

The audience will be more or less under the control of master of ceremonies and hysteria, Lloyd Weer.

The place is Sunset auditorium, time is 8:30 sharp, and one and all are warned to seat themselves before the curtain flies up. After that, it'll be just too late!

BIG SUR BILLBOARDS WILL STAY DOWN

The large and glaring billboards, which blotted the scenery around Big Sur last year and were removed after considerable agitation, will stay down.

The State Parks Commission ordered them down last year but took back its decision a month ago. This past week the commission met again and voted to keep the signs off the highway. W. H. Raymond, operator of Big Sur Lodge, put up the 15x40 foot signs.

Have You An Extra French Horn Around?

Why not help make music for the Army?

The 106th Infantry, a regiment of the famous 27th Division, needs your help. Do you have a bass drum, a clarinet, a French horn, or any other musical instrument that you are not using?

If so, put your name and address on it and lend it to the regiment for the duration. The regiment is very desirous of organizing a full size band and they haven't the instruments, though they have the talent. So get out those instruments that you and your friends are not using and bring them down to the USO Club in Monterey at Webster and El Estero or call and they will collect them.
